I will not ratify that assumption but I am thinking we have an all-around deal then that puts to rest Prosperity?

I assume that is to make sure the payment is in the trustee's commission denominator, which we appreciate. So long as we are not at any risk, I think we get comfortable with that.

Gentlemen, the Trustee will agree to the 100k. He will not agree to a direct transfer; the order will require him to immediately transfer the funds to Eric less the 100k.
Do we have a deal?

I can call Paul and then conference in Davor. Please note that I'm having a big problem today with calls dropping. It seems that AT&T service gets spotty when there are strong winds. I would go back to Verizon if it matched the AT&T prices, but Verizon has declined and price differential is substantial.
